1 Garvagh
destroyed by fire during the Battle of Garvagh in 1641, it is now a thriving rural market town. Of interest are Garvagh Museum, the stone clock tower and nearby forest. 🏠📍

2 Legavannon Pot
"Hollow of the Soul" - a spectacular melt water channel between Garvagh and Dungiven.

3 Dungiven
a historic town, visit the recently restored Dungiven Castle, set in parkland overlooking the Sperrins and Dungiven Priory which is close by. 🏠📍

4 Banagher Old Church
ancient burial site and holy place - with a 12th century ruin.

5 Banagher Glen
an ancient oakland just off the route is designated a Special Area of Conservation. Take a detour to view the impressive Altnaheglish Dam. Why not visit Aughlish Stone Circles which are close by. (Seasonal)

6 Derrynoid Forest, Draperstown
This forest houses the Rural College & Derrynoid Centre - an excellent base for walking and activity holidays. A series of nature trails and walks are available with accompanying literature. 🏠📍

7 St. Lurach's Church
The present day ruins of St. Lurach's Church date back to the 10th Century and it stands on the 6th Century monastery founded by St. Lurach, the patron saint of Maghera. Contained within the ruins is a sculpture of the crucifixion, which is thought to date from the 10th Century, making it one of the oldest in Ireland. 📍

8 Tirkane Sweathouse
A rectangular structure built against the side of a hill with a roof made of flat stones with a small chimney hole in one corner. The floor is paved with stone. According to 'Ancient Monuments of Ireland, Vol. 2' these Sweat Houses are the primitive fore runner for the modern Turkish bath, which are known in Germany as Irish Baths.

9 Tirnoney Dolmen
A prehistoric tomb of at least 4,000 - 6,000 years old. Dolmens are tomb structures with standing stones and a horizontal capstone, found in a number of places in Ireland

10 Upperlands Dams
The Linen Village of Upperlands is characterised by the ancient craft of linen making. Where the Knockoneill River reaches the Clady River are a number of dams which were essential for storing water to wash, bleach, dye and starch the linen during the manufacturing process. 🏠

11 Glenullin
Having a lowland raised bog as its dominant landscape feature, the Glenullin area also offers a choice of way marked trails.

12 Errigal Glen
An established woodland on the banks of the Agivey River with way marked trails and historic interest.

13 Errigal Old Church and Souterrain
an ancient pagan ritual site, Christianised in the 7th century by St Adamnan.
